OPENING
WEED SALES

Probably 100,000 Pounds Will Be Offered On Various Loose Floors.

The rain yesterday was encouraging to the tobacco men and with enough of it to make a season there will be some lively movements in marketing the crop that is bringing such satisfactory prices.

Many crops are being sold at prices as high as $12 in one instance reported. A man named Shanklin in Todd county sold his crop at that figure to the Kentucky Leaf & Transit Co. Other sales have been made at $10, $11 and $11.50.

The loose floors were to open business today but there will be small sales if any, owing to the recent unfavorable weather. One of the warehouses has 50,000 or 60,000 pounds on its floors and the others have smaller amounts. Probably 100,000 pounds or more will be sold.

PRIZE WINNING FOWLS.

Lewis A. Waller made some handsome winnings on White Plymouth Rocks at the Henderson poultry show, in hot competition. In a class of 60 or 70 he won first on hen and second on cock and the sweepstakes silver loving cup offered on the best white chicken in the show. His prize hen won this in competition with 250 fowls. Mr. Waller also made some nice sales of stock while in Henderson.

BURY WOMAN
UNIDENTIFIED

She Will Be Blaced in Coffin Provided By Popular Subscriptions.

PHOTOGRAPH PRODUCED

Of Woman of The Same Name Taken About Five Years Ago.

Katherine Denton, the woman who died at the Jennie Stuart Hospital last Thursday, will be buried to-day. W. R. Crawley and others took up a popular collection yesterday and raised enough money to buy a decent coffin and one of the classes in the Baptist Sunday School bought a robe. The woman left $7.75 in the hands of J. L. Freedman, but there is a hospital bill to be paid by some one. County Judge Knight authorized this and the woman's money may be applied to some portion of the expenses incurred.

The only new development is that a man who did not want his name used appeared at the Waller & Trice establishment, where the body was held, and showed the picture of a woman given to him by a woman calling herself Katherine Denton five years ago. She was at that time a woman of loose morals. An inspection of the photograph seemed to fix the identity of the victim as the "same woman. At least the resemblance was striking.

No one has claimed to know the woman in any of the cities she referred to and the opinion is now general that the poor victim told the truth when she said she had no friends and refused to give her home address, if she had one.

Lieut. Hawkins, of the police force, worked on all clues that were found and finally established the fact that the women went to Cerulean by rail and came back in a livery rig of Frank Smith, of Cerulean, to this city. She went to the Hill House and then went out the Princeton road to the house where she was fatally burned the same night. That afternoon Smith passed her on the road as he returned to Cerulean and spoke to her about a letter he had lost on the trip to Hopkinsville. This was told by a little girl name Ricketts who was riding a short distance from school with Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith admitted these facts but said he knew nothing about the woman, except that she said her name was Denton.

ELOQUENT
ADDRESS

Of Hon. J. Elliott Baker at Elks Memorial Service Sunday.

PROGRAM OF MUSIC

Exercises Attended by a Large Audience of Friends.

The sixteenth annual memorial services of the Hopkinsville Lodge No. 545, B. P. O. E., were held at the Princess Theatre Sunday afternoon with a large crowd present.

Music was furnished by the Princess Orchestra and solos were rendered by Mr. Paul Twyman and Misses Nell Espie and Margaret Dalton. The ritualistic services were conducted by Exalted Ruler V. E. Barnes and other officers. The eulogy of departed members of the year 1916 was delivered most eloquently and feelingly by Ed. J. Duncan, these being John B. Russell, Wm. H. Jesup and J. T. Hanbery. Lucian H. Davis called the roll of the 36 deceased members. The formal memorial address was delivered by Hon. J. Elliott Baker, of Princeton. His address was one of rare beauty of diction and grace of delivery. Mr. Baker is an accomplished orator and a most pleasing speaker.

The audience joined in singing Auld Lang Syne.

RAN INTO A DITCH.

J. H. Morgan and Mr. Taylor, two traveling men, had an accident on the Kirkmansville road that came near being serious. The steering gear of their machine broke and it headed into a ditch, wrecking the car. The occupants escaped injury and were brought to town by another car and a repair crew was sent out to bring in their machine.

Mesdames Gertrude Schumaker, soloist, and W. C. Hoffman, pianist, of Nashville, will give a musical recital this evening at 8:15 o'clock at Library Hall for the benefit of furnishing the hall. Both are accomplished musicians.

Nice Quiet Place.

The announcement that the post office proposes to dispatch a mail to Tristan d'Acunha has caused a considerable interest, for it is ten years since a mail was sent from this country. The island lies midway between South America and the Cape of Good Hope, and ten years ago the population was 75. The people probably know nothing of the war in Europe.

Making Nation-Wide Inquiry.

Boston, Dec. 4.—United States District Attorney Geo. W. A Conscientious Juror.

In an Ohio court a juror was about to be sworn in, when the judge thought himself to say:

"I trust, sir, that you fully understand the duties and responsibilities of a juror?"

Thereupon the men drew himself up and said:

"Your Honor, I am a plain man, and believe in being fair to all. I don't go by what the lawyers say, and I don't go by what the judge says, but I look carefully at the defendant in the dock, and I say to myself, 'hat fellow must have done something, or he wouldn't be here.' So I bring 'em all in guilty."

Saturday afternoon Judge Chas. H. Bush was put forward as a candidate for chairman believed to be acceptable to all factions. A statement was made that Judge Bush would accept if elected unanimously to insure harmony in the party. When the committee met yesterday for organization, his name was presented but when the name of Pettus White was also presented and it became evident that there would be a division, Judge Bush's name was withdrawn and Mr. White was elected by acclamation.

James West and Eugene Kelly were appointed to escort him to the chair and in accepting he spoke briefly, saying he had committed himself to no set of men and would fill the position with the utmost impartiality. J. T. McCord was elected Secretary without opposition and the meeting adjourned.

TURKISH CITY
RUSSIA'S PRIZE

Asserted in Duma That All the Allies Had Agreed to This Disposition.

TREATY WAS MADE IN 1915

Bucharest May Be Captured But Army of the Nation May Get Away Safely.

London, Dec. 4.—An event surpassing in far reaching importance the actual military operations of the war comes today in the public announcement by the new Russian premier, Alexander Trepoff, that by an agreement concluded in 1915 and subsequently adhered to by Italy, the all definitely established Russian right to Constantinople and the straits, the existence of this agreement has been for a long time alleged, but never before was it thus publicly and formally admitted.

Simultaneously, while the fate of Bucharest is still hanging in the balance, comes the news that Russia, which has been accused in some quarters of failing to render assistance to its sorely pressed ally, is making heroic efforts to turn the tide of events in Rumania and in addition to exerting vigorous pressure against von Falkenhayn in Moldavia, where the Russians have gained a footing at Kirilbaba and the battle is continuing with the utmost energy.

The new Russian effort is visible on the Danube, south of Bucharest where newly arrived Russian troops are making an important attack on Field Marshal von Mackensen's rear, already, according to the Russian official report, with some success, 26 guns and a number of prisoners having been taken and the Germans and Bulgarians having been driven from Tzobana and Gostinari. The Russians are also successfully applying pressure in Dobrudja.

These Russian attacks on the two extreme flanks of the central forces although they may be too late to save Bucharest, may, if successfully prosecuted change the complexion of the Rumanian campaign, as there is no indication as yet that the enveloping movement of the central powers has succeeded in cutting off and considerable portion of the Rumanian armies.

In connection with the fate of Bucharest, a semi-official Rumanian statement has been received by wireless to the effect that before the commencement of the war, Bucharest was deprived of the character of a fortress and that when the danger of occupation presented itself steps were taken for the evacuation of the city of the military elements, but not by the civilian population who had been joined to remain in the city.

This points to the military abandonment of the city and would seem to indicate that the Russians are fighting engagements to delay their enemy and secure the safe retirement of their armies.

SFTUDAY, DEC. 5

Hugh and Tom.

Hugh Martin and Tom Underwood were boys together living in adjoining homes, and were cousins on their mother's side of the house. There came into the life of the Underwood and Martin families, through the marriage of Miss Fannie Randolph, half-sister to Tom Underwood, to John H.
Milliken, of this place, a beautiful and intelligent daughter in the person of Miss Mattie May Milliken, who in turn became a playmate, or little child burden to the above named boys, now men of distinct and well-earned reputations throughout the country. Their paths of life diverged in after years and Hugh Martin left for Europe to perfect his musical gift. The story of his rise has often been told and his name is known over the civilized world. He has been kept in close touch with his childhood friend, Miss Mattie Mae Milliken, she having gone to all the important cities of the country, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Bertha Milliken, who also received musical training through the musical masters of Europe, to hear, encourage and inspire Hugh Martin, as only interested relatives could do. The coming of Hugh Martin to his childhood home, Hopkinsville, is the culmination on his part and those nearest and dearest to him of a desire entertained for many years, and it is to be regretted that Franklin cannot enjoy the compliment he pays his home town.—Franklin

Turkey dealers were hit hard by the slump in prices that was forced up to prohibitive figures. Even Louisville housekeepers refused to buy and retail dealers as well as the wholesale houses were hit hard by a decline of seven or eight cents in three days.
Turkeys bought the first of the week in local markets at 23 cents on foot are now selling as low as 18 cents dressed in Chicago and New York. Hunder-reds of thousands of pounds of turkeys have put in cold storage for Christmas, glutting the wholesale markets for weeks to come.

The prices of last month's close for provisions probably marked the season's high water mark. The boycott idea has taken firm hold in many cities from New York to San Francisco. The dealer who attempts to attach a fictitious value to food products will find the public ready to resist a grasping spirit. The wise dealer will be content with a reasonable profit.

Two prominent Watsons were tried last Friday, T. E. Watson, editor and author, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails attacking Catholics, was tried at Augusta, Ga., and acquitted. T. R. Watson, a bank president at Waco, Texas, who killed John S. Patterson, was given 99 years in prison.

Grain markets took another sharp decline Friday, following the holiday of Thursday. Wheat dropped 3 5-8 cents, closing at $1.67. Corn dropped 1-8 and oats 1 1/2 cents lower.

Mrs. Lizzie M. Palmer, widow of former U. S. Senator Thos. Palmer, who died recently in New York, left $3,000,000 to be used in the training of girls for motherhood.

DAIRY

RAISING CALVES FOR PROFIT

*Wisconsin Specialist Gives Interesting Hints About Building Up Money-Producing Dairy.

G. C. Humphrey, a Wisconsin dairy specialist, gives the following facts about building up a profit-producing dairy from home-raised calves:

Use only a good, purebred sire, take good care of the cows, and keep the calves "coming" right from birth.

Dry the mother off six weeks before date of calving, otherwise the calf may be weak or undersized.

Give the mother a clean, comfortable box stall a few days before calving, where she may be quiet.

Leave the calf with its mother the first two to four days, so it may get the colostrum, or "first milk."

From then until four weeks old, feed from two to five pounds of its mother's Growing Into Money.

milk three times a day. After two weeks give a little choice hay.

If the calf seems unthrifty or weak, feed four times a day and give slightly less at a time.

Overfeeding is more dangerous than underfeeding. Keep the pails clean and give milk warm, as nearly as possible the temperature of freshly drawn milk.

Beginning the fifth week, gradually substitute skim milk for the whole milk. About the eighth week increase the amount from six to ten pounds twice daily.

Do not feed the froth which rises in separator skim milk, as it is likely to cause indigestion, bloat and scours.

COWS FRESHENED IN AUTUMN

Calves Are Usually Strong and Vigorous—Nothing to Check Growth—Butter Fat Higher.

One thing of great importance to the dairyman is the time to have the cows come fresh. Cows that freshen during the fall months come in at a time when we are not quite so busy and can look after them and give them proper care and attention.

The calves are usually strong and vigorous, and as fly time is practically over there is nothing to materially check their growth.

Fall-freshened cows no doubt require more attention than those coming fresh during the spring months, but as we usually have the spare time at this particular period of the year, the time in caring for them, feeding, etc., is profitably spent.

Butterfat is usually higher during the fall and winter, and of course this makes the business profitable if we have plenty of good feed and of the right sort for producing butterfat.

There are many other good points in favor of having the cows come fresh during the fall months.

IMPORTANT TO MILK CLEANLY

If Not Done Cow Will Soon Have Swollen Udder Which May Result in Her Ruination.

It is important that cows be milked clean. There is a loss in two ways in not milking them clean. Not only does the owner lose the milk, but the cow will soon have a swollen udder, which may result in the loss of a quarter or ruin the whole cow, as far as milking is concerned.

And, beside, if a cow testing 4 per cent butterfat be milked and the first fourth of the milk be tested, it will probably only test about 2 per cent, and it may even be a little lower.
The second fourth will test between 3 and 4 per cent and keep on increasing, and the very last milk, or strippings, sometimes tests as high as 12 and even 15 per cent. Hence, the importance of getting the strippings.

RIGHT PASTURE FOR CALVES

Clean, Green, Shady Place Is Best for Young Animals—Guard Against Pestering Flies.

A clean, green, shady pasture is good for little calves. Do not put them into the hog pasture. The latter usually has bare, dusty places in it. The wallow and the pig feeding troughs attract myriads of flies. These pester the little calves too much.

IMPORTANCE OF THE WOMEN

Some of the Big Things That Depend on The So-Called Weaker Sex.

If it wasn't for the women the trolleys would stop running, the restaurants and theaters would have to close, the churches would languish and starve, and of course, as to the dry-goods and department stores, there would be none. We tremble to think if some day the women would concentrate all their power for some certain purpose, how very sad the situation would be. But of course they won't. They are too considerate and loving for that, but the statement is justified to show how important the women are in the activities of a community. Suppose they all stayed at home, and cooked, and sewed, and made up the beds, and sprinkled the lawn and took care of the children, and indulged only in that beautiful home life of which they are so capable, what would become of the business and its varied needs? We hesitate for a reply.—

SALT BATHS FOR GOLDFISH

They Should Be Given Every Two Weeks to Keep the Pets Healthy.

Goldfish may be kept healthy by giving them a salt bath about every two weeks. Do it this way: Put a teaspoonful of salt in a quart of clear water and place the fish in it for 15 minutes—no longer. When changing the water in the aquarium, a small wire strainer will be found a great convenience. Pour all the water from the goldfish bowl, with the fish, into a basin. Rinse the bowl, dry it, fill with fresh water and with the wire strainer pick up the goldfish and drop them back into the bowl. Aquariums should be kept in a cool place and not exposed to the direct rays of the sun. Feed the fish every other morning, allowing six or eight fish one-fourth of a sheet of food cut in small pieces. Sick fish have often become strong and healthy after a few salt baths.

HEALTHIEST CITY IN WORLD.

A prominent inspector of health has shown from statistics that London is one of the healthiest, if not the healthiest, city in the world. He attributes the low death rate—still on the decline—to the perfect sanitary system of the city and its suburbs, its many open spaces, the teaching of hygiene in the schools of the county council and its effect upon the parents, the progress of suburban life, outdoor sports, and the magnificent street-car systems which get the workers away each day from unhealthy environments.

He pleads for a more vigorous enforcement of the factory and building acts and the voluntary abandonment of week-end parties. "City life requires a real tonic, which is not provided by card parties in boat-houses and seaside trips." Rest, he thinks, is more recuperative to the nerve tissues of the busy man of the world as well as the working man.

A TOTAL LOSS.

"Old Mr. Graboin is a thrifty man. He always buys his summer suits in the fall when they are marked down, and keeps them until the following season."

"Some of these days he may lose ten or twelve dollars that way."

"How?"
"He may die some winter and leave behind a suit he's never had on."

ence room and couldn't find any of fered misery or nearly eight years, tain any of those nasty, irritating

Cardui has benefited a million women.

HIS COMMENT.

"Things are really bad in our line," said the young doctor pessimistically. "Unless you are prepared to work night and day it is almost impossible to make even a living."

His listeners at the club agreed sympathetically; they all thought the same, whatever their line of business—all except one bluff old medical man.

"Pooh!" he said, with a friendly sneer "That's all rubbish, my young friend; there's as much money to be made now as ever there was. Look at me, for instance. I'm making plenty of money, but do I look overworked? Do I ever seem pressed for time? Have I not always plenty of leisure?"

"You certainly seem to take life easy," replied the younger doctor, smoothly.

CONSCIENCE HAS BEEN BUSY THEY READ THE DICTIONARY

Record Sum Was Sent to the Fund During Last Fiscal Year, It Is Reported.

The treasury department reports that during the last fiscal year the "conscience fund" has been increased by more than $54,000, the largest amount ever contributed before in one year. How busy conscience has been measuring itself in terms of dollars and cents may be judged by contrasting this contribution with the niggardly $250 received in 1881, the year the fund came into existence.

In fact, conscience has recently been unusually active, not only in enriching the federal treasury, but in helping private and public corporations and individuals. An Ohio man paid 25 cents for apples stolen six years ago; a Californian paid a newspaper subscription 33 years overdue; a woman sent stamps to a Kansas City street railway company to pay for four rides, and a Pennsylvanian paid up a hotel bill he skipped 25 years ago. Billy Sunday revivals, religion, an awakened public, civic or national "righteousness" have all been held responsible.

But where conscience had a clear field for good it seems to have failed. There is nothing to indicate that it made even a dent in congress. It has not struck the places of Europe's high and mighty hard enough to end the carnage of battlefield. It has yet time enough to awaken in the soul of the orators. And what a chance of a man's lifetime it will have early next November!—New York Sun.

TO AVERT BUTTON FAMINE

Artificial Propagation of Pearly Mussels Is Being Given Most Serious Consideration.

A great laboratory has been established on the Mississippi river, says the National Geographic Magazine, where experiments have been in progress to determine how the pearly mussels may be artificially increased so that the many factories making buttons therefrom may not have to shut down following the exhaustion of the mussel beds by unregulated fishing.

An entirely new problem in aquiculture was here presented, and has now been satisfactorily solved through the discovery that the young mussels, while still in a microscopic larval stage, must attach themselves to the gills of particular fishes in order to develop, and that unless the fishes for which the different kinds of mussels have a selective affinity are available none of the young will survive.

The fish hosts of the various important button-making mussels have been determined and it is the province of the laboratory to provide those fishes and have them inoculate themselves by swimming in tanks or ponds in which the spawning mussels have been placed. When a fish is sufficiently infected, it is turned loose in the river, and in a few weeks the young mussels, having attained a proper development, become detached from the gills, fall to the bottom of the stream, and begin their independent existence.

HIS MOTIVE.

"Congressman Twobble is a man who gives a great deal of thought to his personal appearance."

"Why, he never looks well groomed."

"Of course not. He studiously affects a certain negligence in dress to convince the voters that he is a man of democratic ideals."

IT ALL DEPENDS.

"Telephones are great time savers, aren't they?"

"Well, that depends upon who calls you up."

TOO FRESH.

Percy—My love for you is like the deep, blue sea—

Maude—And I take it with the corresponding amount of salt.

NOT WANTED.

"Here's a funny one on aviation."

"What is it?"

"This man says the science has now gained a solid footing."

DEEP STUFF.

"I'm digging a well for exercise."

"How are you getting on?"

"Fine. Drop in on me some day."

Little Incident Proves the Natives of Nigeria Are Capable of Being Educated.

That the natives of Nigeria are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Larymore in "A Resident's Wife in Nigeria."

"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed through a valley where the inhabitants of the rocks and hills above apparently made their homes in holes and caves. One member of the party idly asked what was the scientific name of cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word. But then the native interpreter, plodding along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir, don't you mean troglodytes?'"

"The Englishman, amazed, asked where he had ever heard such a word and George replied placidly, 'I was reading a dictionary one day and saw it.'"

"I cannot imagine myself reading a German or Italian dictionary for pleasure and storing in my mind for future use conversationally a specially unusual scientific term. I only wish I could."

GOLD SENT TO ITALY.

According to a recent investigation by an Italian parliamentary commission, Italian emigrants send every year to their native home, through the banks and post offices alone, $120,000,000 in gold. To this must be added an unknown amount which the emigrants bring home with them or send through their friends and relatives. The annual wealth produced by the entire Italian nation even now amounts to only a little more than $600,000,000. The savings of the emigrants, therefore, make up about one-fifth of the entire annual revenue of the country.—Raphael Zon, in Yale Review.

HOW RED CROSS SEALS IDEA CAME INTO USE

Originating in Norway, Method Was Taken Up Here Nine Years Ago.

Over $3,250,000 has been raised by Red Cross Christmas Seals in the last eight years, and yet many people who will buy these holiday stickers at this ninth annual sale do not know how this idea originated.

While Red Cross Seals really date back to the Civil War when "Charity Stamps" were first used, the first campaign to sell holiday stickers for the tuberculosis fight was only nine years ago in Delaware. Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, read an article by Jacob Riis describing stamps used for tuberculosis work in Norway, and she conceived the idea of a similar plan here. Single handed, she launched a sale which resulted in $3,000 in clear money. When Miss Bissell tried to convince the American Red Cross that this idea should be made national as a peace activity of that society, she met with opposition, but finally persuaded the authorities, with the result that on an investment of a few hundred dollars $135,000 worth of Seals were sold in 1908 and the great national campaign was launched. Since then the sale has gone forward by leaps and bounds, until now the Red Cross Seal is an institution in the United States, and offers to every one a chance to help in the people's fight against the people's disease. Last year over 76,000,000 Seals were sold, and this year the American Red Cross and The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, who conduct the sale, are out for a 100,000,000 sale or $1,000,000 for the Tuberculosis War.

The policy on which the sale is conducted is that the money, except for the deduction of legitimate expenses, shall remain in the community where the Seals are sold.

Marines Hold Santo Domingo.

Military rule has been proclaimed in Santo Domingo by the United States navy to suppress existing political chaos in the little republic and pave the way for guaranteeing future quiet by establishing there a substantial financial and police protectorate as the American government now exercises over Haiti.

Eighteen hundred American marines will maintain order for the present and at least until elections are held in January, their officers will supervise the conduct of government by native officials and disburse the customs revenues which American receivers have been collecting by treaty arrangement for nine years.

WAR STORY

At last the people of Hopkinsville have the opportunity of seeing the great war in all its grim and thrilling realism, of seeing it just as it is, not as it might have been or what one side or the other would have it; of seeing history as it is made at the cannon's very mouth.

The official French Government's pictures of the struggle to the death along the battle-scarred western front have arrived in this country. They were taken under the direction of the Great Army General Staff of the French Government, not as mere colorful incidents or interesting in phases of modern hostilities, but to supply an imperishable and unimpeachable record such as no other war has produced; a record which, by the turn of the handle of a projecting machine may be vitalized into action. This picture record in which men risked their lives to make complete is destined for the French National Archive through E. Alexander Powell, who, as a war correspondent, has followed the fortunes of the Allied armies.

The official Government's motion pictures have been secured for presentation to audiences of the Rex Theatre on Tuesday, Dec. 5, matinee and night.

Their authenticity is guaranteed by the French Government.

For the first time it will be possible to witness a great artillery action with the large calibre guns, hurling their shells against an unseen enemy.

There are no words between the covers of the dictionary that can adequately describe what a great artillery action is like, wrote Mr. Powell. But you can see it in these pictures, just as the camera caught it. Trees snapping like carrots and gaping holes as large as cellars suddenly appearing in the fields. Surely one cannot want a more thrilling two hours than there is to be had at the Rex to-day.

Improvement on "Skis."

An increase of several yards in the jump of ski-runners is a rather surprising result of the process of metalizing objects by means of a spray. In Switzerland, a coating of aluminum of the thickness of thin cardboard is being applied to the ski-blades by this method, and this not only adds greatly to the durability of the bearing surface but it also very materially lessens friction, and tends further to prevent caking of snow on the blades. It is the diminished friction that lengthens the jump.

Unique School Idea.
Attendance at a Rumford (Me.) school is encouraged by a peculiar method: Each room is permitted to choose a favorite model of automobile to represent it; every pupil absent or tardy reduces the speed at which the car is running. In this way rivalry in attendance has been developed.

SIGNIFICANT

"Hereafter I intend to husband my means."
"I suppose that means a husband."

THE SMALL ARM.
"Don't take a revolver on a hunting trip." This is an old and time-tried piece of advice and well worth heeding—provided that on that trip you have your rifle with you constantly. Your rifle will do all that a revolver could do and more, therefore, the latter would be superfluous. But if you are going on a trip where a rifle is not particularly essential or would be an encumbrance at times, then by all means take with you a pistol or revolver, for it can be used to great advantage in keeping the larder filled. The pistol has a legitimate use in the sportsman's equipment, and that is to take the place of a rifle for getting small game at short range, and occasionally large game as well.—Outing.

She Collects Indian Stories.
In order to learn their fairy tales Miss Mabel Powers, a writer of East Aurora, N. Y., went among the Iroquois Indians in 1910 and became to these Indians on the reservation "The Story Teller." Many evenings she spent telling stories to make these people her friends. She found that the old people really believed firmly in fairies of the "little people." According to Miss Powers these native American fairies are delightful, especially the little farmer fairies. In all Miss Powers has got together 33 fairy tales from the American Indians. Each one of the stories from the Iroquois has a fine ethical teaching. Recently Miss Powers told some of these Indian fairy tales to several hundred "pale-face children," and they were deeply interested in them.—Exchange.

Conflicting Duties.
The most difficult thing in life seems to me to recognize which is the highest of two conflicting duties, and those to whom it is easiest must have, I think, not only the most happiness but genius. If goodness were always quite simple, what could be more delightful than to be good always? It is, however, a sad thing, when the understanding and affections are at variance, when one has to stop and consider which of two courses is morally incumbent on one, and without always finding a solution; it is sad, because it shakes one's faith in that which ought to be the surest of guides, namely, in one's own conscience; and let one choose what he will, it leaves in his mind a sting, something to regret.—Paul Hayes.

Music Aids Dentists.
Here's a tip for other tooth doctors, that should fill a long-felt want and a tooth at the same time. Get a piano and have an assistant to tickle the ivories. A New York dentist declares that music takes the patient's mind from his activities and consequently lessens doubt and pain. "I have been filling teeth to piano accompaniment for some time," declared this ivory expert, "and I am sure that it makes a visit to a dentist's less painful—certainly less nerve-racking—than before. Much of the work a dentist has to do is absolutely painless, although many patients are so nervous that they actually believe they are suffering. In fact, nine-tenths of them cry before they're hurt. But by giving them music they like while in the chair their minds are diverted, with the result that their experiences are not unpleasant. The idea has a scientific basis, and I have found it highly successful."

AS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial

MANY MUST LEAVE JAPAN

Suggestion as to How the Surplus Agricultural Population May Be Disposed Of.

The Chuwo of Tokyo prints an article in its editorial column by Doctor Sato, professor of Northeastern Imperial university, on the subject of agricultural communities, according to East and West. Doctor Sato says:

"No matter how much we may try to improve the conditions of the farmers in Japan by raising the price of rice and by similar steps, it will not be possible to accomplish the object successfully, because there is a natural limit to the area of arable lands in Japan. Beyond that limit the farmers cannot go. The best way to improve the farmers is to see that they emigrate to foreign lands.
The question of emigration is a troublesome one. But the foreign office has not been doing the right thing to solve this problem. The government should take serious interest in its solution. We have Korea, Manchuria, Mongolia and other places in the Orient, where the immigrants might be sent in a greater number than at present.
These fundamental problems should be solved, instead of confining our attention to the question of the price of rice."

EVERY LITTLE BIT.

leaving the seashore hotel.
"You folk going this morning?"
asked the waitress, and immediately all the guests dug down. One of them entered into conversation with the waitress, who was folding up her dollar bills. "Are you a waitress in the winter time?" asked the guest.
"No, indeed," replied the waitress, smoothing with loving care an old greenback. "I live in New York.
I own three private houses."
"Do you own one private house?" asked the guests of each other as they grabbed up their bags and left.
"No, indeed," replied the guests to each other as they doubled up to

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers.
Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Elkton man is confirmed after three years.
W. E. Watson, produce dealer, Elkton, Ky., says: "I had pain in the small of my back, which bothered me especially when stooping or lifting.
My back ached at night and I was lame in the morning. I tired easily and had headaches and dizzy spells.
The kidney secretions passed too frequently and colds settled in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills did good work."
Over three years later, Mr. Watson said: "I seldom use Doan's Kidney Pills, but when I need them, I would pay $5.00 a box for them. They are worth that much to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

Ferocious Tuaregs.

From Morocco to Tripoli the re-

The Tuaregs, meanwhile, openly spy

Still, the time is coming when the long caravan will no longer cross the desert, but the Sudan products will be carried by railway to Port Sudan,

FIRE IN A CONFECTIONERY

Frank DeGeorge's Establishment Guttled by Flames Early Sunday Morning.

Fire Sunday morning about four o'clock practically destroyed the contents of Frank DeGeorge's confectionery and fruit establishment on Virginia street, between Eighth and Ninth. The building, which belongs to Mr. John J. Metcalfe, was considerably damaged, but the loss is covered by insurance. Mr. DeGeorge estimates his loss at about $1,000, on stock and fixtures. He had $500 insurance. Stock over the room in which the flames started, belonging to Keach & Fears, was also damaged by smoke. It is not known how the fire originated.

When you want fire, tornado, life or bond insurance in the Oldest Strongest Companies see H. D. WALLACE, office up stairs, over Anderson-Fowler Drug Store, Corner Ninth and Main.

Soldiers Had Turkey.

Among the camps along the line of the American punitive expedition in Mexico there were five at least in Mexico, in which there was cause for Thanksgiving. Twelve truck loads of turkeys, supplemented by such game as could be secured, was the principal reason for rejoicing. The "turkey special" which made a record-breaking trip from Columbus, N. M., brought enough to furnish each man in the expedition with three-quarters of a pound of dressed turkey. At field headquarters twenty deer and eighty wild turkeys brought in by Mormon hunters were distributed also among various organizations.

Bosse Buys Coal.

Determined to keep coal prices from soaring above the reach of the poor, Mayor Bosse, of Evansville, closed a deal Wednesday with Geo. W. Pritchett for 40,000 bushels of coal to be delivered on barges to Evansville. The coal will be mined at a small mine on Green river between Spottsville and Bluff City. The mine employs eight miners, and more will be needed to fill the Evansville contract. The exact price was not made known, but those who claim to know stated that it was under 10 cents a bushel placed on barges.—Gleaner.

Turkeys Tumble.

A turkey dealer at Hartford has 1,200 live turkeys on his hands, at the fair grounds, that have dropped from 23 cents to 15 cents a pound and are busy eating their heads off.

INCORPORATED

MARTIN, AMERICA'S LEADING TENOR.

Riccardo Martin, who is America's greatest tenor, and who will visit this city Dec. 18 with the Boston-National Grand Opera Company, went contrary to the wishes of his parents when he decided upon an operatic career. If he had followed their desires, he would today belong to one of the three so-called learned professions—law, medicine or theology. He was born in Kentucky, a member of one of the most prominent families in the South. Until his parents could decide which of the three professions their son should follow, he was sent to Columbia University, New York. There music drew him. He did not take it up vocally, however, but studied composition under the late Edward MacDowell. He was very successful as a student, and his compositions were frequently sung. Martin went to Italy still intent on perfecting himself in composition. While he was there a famous teacher heard him and strongly advised him to cultivate his voice. Martin followed his advice, and after a successful Italian debut, returned to the United States. With a number of prominent operatic organizations he sang in some of our principal cities. After an appearance in New Orleans, his voice and technique drew the attention of the late Heinrich Conried at that time director of the Metropolitan Opera in New York. He engaged Martin. His Metropolitan debut was made in 1907 as Faust. For a number of seasons Martin remained at the Metropolitan, frequently taking roles for which Caruso had been announced. He, more than any tenor, sang Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly" at the Metropolitan.

Strength Test.

A party of English officers serving at the Dardanelles made a wager one day as to which smelled the louder, a goat or a Turk. To settle the wager a goat was brought into the colonel's tent, and the colonel faintled. When the colonel was revived they brought a Turk into the tent, and the goat faintled.
